

Quick Art Space, Wandering Through the Kiosk of Kismet, group exhibition
September 26 – December 31, 2025

Launched in May 2023 within Quick Tower as an initiative of Maher Holding, Quick Art Space presents its fourth group exhibition curated by Nergis Abiyeva between September 26 and December 31, 2025. “Wandering Through the Kiosk of Kismet” features works by Çınar Eslek, Şafak Şule Kemancı, Kerem Giriş, Yekateryna Grygorenko, Seda Oturmak, and Cansu Sönmez—produced specifically for the exhibition or reconfigured as site-specific pieces.

The exhibition borrows its title from Bilge Karasu’s book Kismet Büfesi. Taking as its starting point what Karasu describes as “real or fictional pictures,” the book gathers the author’s visually oriented texts and proposes a narrative oscillating between the visual and the intellectual. Inspired by this proposition, “Wandering Through the Kiosk of Kismet” brings together works by artists who develop ways of constructing, undoing, or suspending narratives through their own distinct visual languages.

The exhibition traces the question of where the invited artists maintain control in their creative process and where they leave the work open to ambiguity, chance, or “kismet.” From modes of engaging with materials to conceptual directions and intuitive decisions, various moments of the production process are revealed as dynamics that shape the final form of the artwork. Thus, the exhibition highlights a creative process that hovers on the threshold between deliberate choice and the unforeseen.

The works in the exhibition pursue what is left unsaid, what emerges visually, and meanings that expand through associative power. “Wandering Through the Kiosk of Kismet” proposes a route with multiple, divergent stops.
